

FALL FESTIVAL DRAWS TO CLOSE

Final Bomb at End of Fireworks
Program Tonight Will be Swan
Song For Big Event.

MOTOR PARADE IS HELD TODAY

Fifty New and Recently Purchased
Cars in Exhibition—Airship
Flight This Afternoon.

The fall festival and horse show is gradually drawing to a close. With the firing of the last varied colored bomb at the ball park tonight, the eighth annual fall event will pass into history to be remembered as the best one ever held.

A parade of new and recently purchased automobiles this morning marked the opening of the day's program. An airship flight was made this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. At 1 o'clock the combination sale opened at the Clark sale barn and will continue until Saturday evening.

Even though there was an unusually large crowd here Thursday, there were many people back again this morning for the automobile parade. There were about fifty cars in the parade, led by the Knights-town Home band.

Leading the parade was Walter Capp's automobile carrying committeemen and following were automobile truck furnished by the Innis-Pearce company, Fred A. Caldwell's furniture store and George C. Wyatt & company's furniture store, hauling the band.

All the automobiles displayed at the automobile show were in the parade and agents brought out patrons to whom they had sold cars recently.

Automobiles represented in the parade were: Maxwells, Studebakers, Monroes, Chevrolet, Overlands, Paiges, Willys-Knight, Oaklands, Marmons, Buicks, Fords, Briscoes, Lexingtons, Franklins, Saxons, Hupp, McFarlans and Auburns.

Large crowds of people attended the automobile show Thursday night and those who displayed cars are reported as being well pleased with the exhibition.

The program of fireworks was larger than usual and some new set pieces that had not been on previous programs were shown. Fireworks will be the attraction tonight. There will be dancing at the Knights of Pythias pavilion and the concessions will still be running.

Two nice exhibitions were given with the airship Thursday afternoon.

ENTERTAINING ORPHAN'S HOME BAND A PLEASURE TO RUSHVILLE PEOPLE

Genuine Enjoyment of Boys For Kindnesses Shown Them and Excellent Conduct Win Them Praise.

HOSPITALITY AT ITS BEST

The visit of the Knightstown Sailors' and Soldiers' Orphans' Home band here at the fall festival and horse show has been more than the fulfillment of a contract—it has been an outing that has filled the boys' hearts collectively and singly with delight.

"It is one of the best times of my life," is the way some of the boys put it. The boys have been enter-

RESORT TO MANLY ART

Bryon Wright And Amos Stevens
Pay Fines After Encounter

Bryon Wright and Amos Stevens, on October 14, settled a grudge of long standing by resorting to the manly art, and then both appeared before Squire Kratzer and pleaded guilty to assault and battery. They paid their fines yesterday. According to the story told, Prosecutor Stevens, Wright invited Stevens to get out of his rig and fight. Stevens complied with the request and as a result of both men pleading guilty it was taken by men in the Squire's office that the fight must have been a draw. The fines assessed were $1 and costs.

COMMITTEE WILL MEET DECEMBER 14

Place For Republican National Convention in 1916 Will be Selected on That Date.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES INDICATED

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 29.—The Republican national committee will meet in Washington December 14 to select a convention city and begin mobilization for 1916. Chairman Hill's made this announcement today—a indicated the lines along which the campaign to restore the Republican party to power will be waged. They are:

First, an attack upon the Democratic tariff.

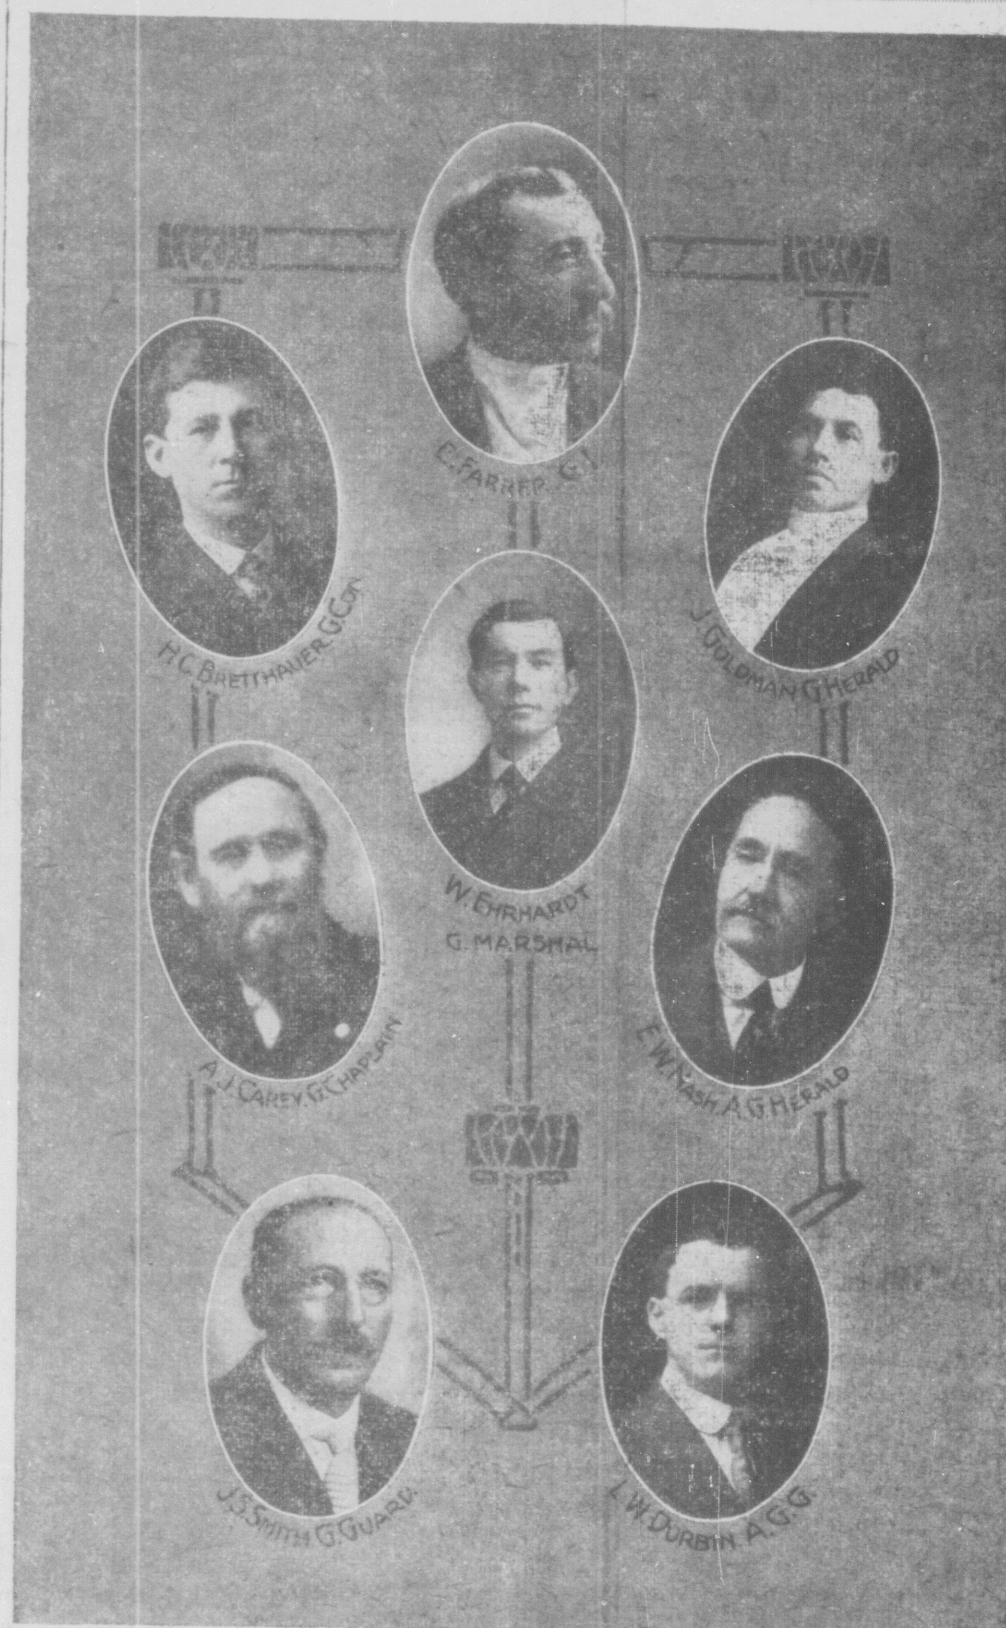

Second, criticism of the Wilson's administration's handling of foreign affairs both in Mexico and Europe.

HE FACES THREE CHARGES

Lew Story Denies Guilt and is Released on Bond.

Lew Story was arraigned before Mayor Bebout this afternoon on three charges filed by Stanley Kemp, charging provoke, using profane language in a public place and with carrying concealed weapons. Story pleaded not guilty to all of the charges and told the court that they were the result of spite work on the part of Kemp. He was released on bond pending the trial. The trouble is alleged to have occurred last night in South Main street.

Odd Fellows Officials Who Will Be Here

The above are pictures of the appointive officers of the Indiana Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. All of them expect to be here next Thursday for the district meeting.

Franklin lodge, No. 75, of this city, will confer the first and third degree Thursday afternoon.

The torchlight parade will move at 7:30 in the evening and an open meeting which the public is cordially invited to attend will be held immediately afterward in the Graham Annex auditorium.

"SAFE AND SANE" IS THE WATCHWORD

Police Hope to Have Halloween Celebration Unaccompanied by Destruction of Property

SPECIAL POLICE RETAINED

The police department is striving for a "safe and sane" hallowe'en tomorrow night when the event will be celebrated here. Destruction of property will not be tolerated and the city officials will attempt to make everyone follow the law. Because hallowe'en comes on Saturday night the usual large crowd of fun makers is expected on the streets and the police hope to make the celebration more along orderly lines than ever before.

Extra police will be on duty in both the business and resident districts to see that order is maintained and the damage to property kept down to a minimum. The special police who have been on duty this week for the fall festival and horse show will be retained for Saturday night.

A POLITE CITY

(By United Press.)

Brazil, Oct. 29.—"Brazil, the politest city in Indiana," is what the council wants this city to be called. The council has ordered taken down the signs at the corporation limits demanding that motorists proceed at a certain rate and has ordered in their place signs, asking that visitors "please exercise caution" and others thanking them when they leave.

NEW CABINET IS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Premier Aristide Briand Makes Public Appointments For French Positions.

OLD CABINET HAS RESIGNED

(By United Press.)

Paris, Oct. 29.—Aristide Briand, the new premier, this afternoon completed his cabinet and made four additional selections. The full list follows:

"WAR TAX" is $21.95

The Rushville Co-operative Telephone company's statement to the government for the collection of the "war tax" on telephone messages for the month of September shows a total of 2,195 calls on which a tax aggregating $21.95 was collected. The long-distance business of the company holds up remarkably well as the report varies but little from month to month.

LARGE SUMS OF MONEY PAID

Tax Payments on Thursday Alone
Amount to $19,000

Large sums of money continue to roll into the coffers of Rush county through the payments of the fall installment of taxes. Yesterday collections totalled $19,000. The rush was again on early this morning at the office of the county treasurer. Many people took advantage of the office being open last night. The office will be open again tonight, Saturday night and Monday night. Monday night is the last chance to pay taxes without the added penalty of ten per cent for collection.

KING GEORGE IS CONFINED TO BED

English Ruler Thrown From His Horse While Inspecting Battle Line in Northern France.

CONDITION IS NOT SERIOUS

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 29.—King George is suffering from severe bruises due to a fall from his horse, it was announced today.

The king is confined to his bed. He passed a fair night, his doctors stated. His temperature was given as 99 and 2/10, his pulse as 75.

His majesty's accident occurred Thursday morning. He was inspecting the army in the field in Northern France when his horse fell, excited by the troops' cheers. It was said the king must remain in bed "for the present."

Assurance was given that he had improved over night, however, and that there were no complications.

The Prince of Wales, who has been at the front in France arrived this afternoon at Buckingham palace.

SHE HAD RELATIVES HERE

Body of Mrs. Henry Kramer Will be Buried at East Hill.

Mrs. Lessie R. Kramer, wife of Henry Kramer, and sister-in-law of Harry Kramer and Mrs. Bert Mallan of this city, died Thursday at her home in Indianapolis. Mrs. Kramer was well known here, having visited relatives in Rushville on numerous occasions. The remains will be brought here Saturday morning, arriving at eleven o'clock and will be taken direct to East Hill cemetery for burial. The funeral services will be conducted at the late residence, 658 Davidson street, Indianapolis, tomorrow morning at eight-thirty o'clock.

INFANT BATES DIES

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bates died this morning at their home in West Ninth street. Burial will take place tomorrow in East Hill cemetery. Their child was born yesterday.

BROTHER OF LOCAL MAN

Phillip Miller received word this morning of the death of his brother, John Miller, at his home twelve miles south of Brookville. Mr. Miller was operated on some six weeks ago and never fully recovered. The funeral will probably be held next Tuesday.

The masked social, which was to have been given Saturday night by Mahoning council No. 36, D. of P., has been declared off on account of the fall festival and horse show.

FORT WAYNE WOMAN WINS

Mrs. Clarke Fairbank Elected President Over Mrs. L. J. Cox—

Other Officers Named

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Formal announcement was made today that Mrs. Clarke Fairbank of Fort Wayne was elected president of the Federation of Clubs over Mrs. L. J. Cox of Terre Haute. The convention elected to follow custom and not to hear the election figures.

Mrs. Cox had become known as the liberal candidate. Other officers elected were first vice-president, Dr. Amelia Keller of Indianapolis; second vice-president, Mrs. V. F. Jones of South Bend; recording secretary, Mrs. W. S. Johnson of Bloomington; general federation secretary, Mrs. E. C. Earl of Connersville; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ella J. Moore of Kokomo; treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Torrance of Indianapolis; auditor, Mrs. A. T. Cox of East Chicago and trustee, Mrs. S. E. Perkins of Indianapolis.

The motion that the federation not hear the election majorities was made by Dr. Keller, one of the chief backers of Mrs. Cox.

Announcement of the result was greeted with moderate applause. Mrs. Cox occupied her seat on the platform as parliamentarian.

This was the first serious reverse ever suffered in the federation by Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke of Indianapolis, long a leader in Indiana club circles. She championed the cause of Mrs. Cox. Mrs. S. E. Stimson was the leader on the victorious side.

It became known this afternoon from an apparently reliable source that Mrs. Fairbank was elected by a large majority. It was reported that Mrs. Cox's home district, the fifth, gave a large majority to Mrs. Fairbank.

Among the resolutions adopted today were: That the state condemn and buy Turkey Run E. a public park; that June 10 be set aside for Indiana day and that bill boards be abolished.

It appeared today that the federation might weather the storm of the presidential fight. Mrs. Fairbanks said:

"Let us forget all unpleasantness. Do not congratulate me now. I feel the situation too keenly."

George W. Gruell has filed a claim against the estate of the late William Helm in which he demands $62.

The Hunting Season

This is the "hunting season" in more ways than those marked by the bang of the gun.

It is the season when we are on the hunt for new attire, for new things for the home, and for many necessities for personal comfort.

It is a sort of prelude to what might be called the "dress-up" season of the year.

It is a season when the stores are at their best and when the advertising columns of a live newspaper like The Daily Republican are bursting with human interest.

BARGAINS ARE ALWAYS ADVERTISEDCounty News*Plum Creek.

There were 109 at Sunday school last Sunday. Recitations were given by the Misses Myrtle Jones and Helen Murphy.

Mrs. Ivy Smalley is reported to be sick.

The pie social at Gings Friday evening was a success. Miss Opal Kiser was awarded the cake for being the most popular young woman.

George W. Kemmer and family spent Tuesday evening with Harry McMillin and family.

Miss Hazel Rider was the guest of Miss Clara Carson Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Meyer planned to start this week on a pleasure trip through the west.

Walter Carson and family were guests of Lewis Huff and family near Newcastle last Sunday.

Following the night of the serenading of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gordon, another crowd of fifty-seven people came from the latter's neighborhood near Occident and gave them a second serenading, but this time they also combined with it a miscellaneous shower. They received many handsome and useful gifts. The evening was a most enjoyable one and the guests were amused in many ways. Those present were: Hal Green and family, Chester Cross and family, Mrs. Bowen and family, W. E. Abernathy and family, Lot Sampson and family, Chase Cross and family, Jess Gilson and family, Gary Oldham and family, Mr. and Mrs. Batie Newhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Gartin, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Newkirk, Mr. and Mrs. Conri Oldham, Will Bell and family, F. M. Gordon and family, and the Misses Hazel and Vera Kiser, Elsie Frazee, Dora Winkler, Ruby Howe and Bessie Morris, and Orval Porter, William Kiser, Carrol Clifton, Chalmer Nixon, Eddie Mullen, James Morris, Kellis Porter, Edward Bell and Andrew Golden. Refreshments of candy, cider and cigars were served.

Several went to the home of Mrs. Jane Alexander in Fairview Monday evening and gave her a genuine surprise by taking her a number of useful things. Mr. Alexander is a cripple and can not get about as others do. She appreciated the presents immensely.

Charles Bales and family of Rushville were the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bales, at Raleigh Sunday.

* AUTUMN PRAISE SERVICE. *

A special autumn praise service will be held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night at seven o'clock. It will be based on the text, "The harvest is past; the summer is ended," from Jeremiah, 8:20. The pastor will make a short talk and the following musical program will be given:

"Last Rose of Summer," Flotow—Kathleen Hogsett.

"Good-Bye to Summer," Tosti—Norma Smith.

Athen—"Great and Marvelous"—Choir.

"Fare, Fare, Each Earthly Joy,"—Choir.

"Fading Away Like the Stars,"—Adams—Mixed Quartette.

"City Four Square,"—Danks—Male Quartette.

This is the first of a series of special Sabbath evening services which will continue until the holidays.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

ENTERTAINING HOME BAND
A PLEASURE TO PEOPLE

ple who have opened their hearts to the youthful visitors and made their stay here a most pleasant one; felt just as keen enjoyment as the boys and will make the little fellows better for it.

The motion picture show proprietors have demonstrated their public spiritedness by extending free privileges to their shows whenever the boys care to attend. Manager Charles Raso of the Gem Thursday gave every member of the band who attended his show a five-cent piece and told each one to spend it as he pleased.

During an intermission last night, a Rushville woman went over to the bandstand and asked to see the "baby" of the band. He was a smiling little chap of twelve years, with a wholesome-looking, happy face.

"Here's a dime," said the woman, "take it and you and one of the boys take a ride on the ferris wheel."

This is but a sample of the little things Rushville people did to make the boys' happy.

Rushville feels like the Knights-town home is almost a part of Rush county. It is located at the edge of the county. John R. Green, the director of the band, was born and raised near New Salem and has been actualizing old times in Rush county with old friends here during the week. Jim Rounds, the manager of the band, is a Rush county man. He is in charge of the printing department at the home. Mr. Rounds learned his trade in the Republican office. He is a brother of Mrs. M. V. Spivey of this city.

Manager Rounds this morning stated that he wished to express his heart-felt thanks for the many courtesies and kindnesses which have been shown the boys during their stay here—especially did he wish to thank the people who kept the boys over night. The boys have been royally fed by the W. R. C. They have been feasted on fried chicken and other good things to eat.

The W. R. C. women gave the boys an extra meal this afternoon at 3:45 before they departed for the home shortly after five o'clock. As the boys passed out of the building, they were each presented with a sack of candy, gifts of the W. R. C.

The New York Globe says that "the industrial condition of the country is encouraging," basing its assertion on the statements of a Democratic Department of Labor. If "encouraging" is all that can be said for conditions by a "booster," there is certainly large room for improvement. There is a vast difference between "encouraging" and "satisfactory." While there is life, there is hope, but long continued hopefulness gets monotonous.

Treat Catarrh By Nature's Method

Every Breath of Hyomei Carries Healing Medicated Air to the Infected Membrane.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it with sprays, lotions, and the like. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would probably have said the only way to help catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with a simple preparation called Hyomei you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day successfully treat yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not give permanent relief, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained at any time for a trifling sum. It is more economical than all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Johnson's Drug Store have sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more they sell, the more convinced they are that they are perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not relieve.

ded one more to the long list of public questions on which he has changed his mind. The American people have led him to see the error of his ways. And Wilson is a fairly good follower of public opinion even though he is slow in getting started.

In October, 1913, the first month of the Democratic tariff law, 61 per cent of our imports came in without paying a cent of revenue to the government. At present duty free goods form 66 per cent of our importations. The Democrats promised the country, during the campaign of 1912, that the tariff law they would lower the cost of living. The New York Times Annalist index number showing average wholesale prices of 25 food commodities for the week ending October 16, 1915 is 142.93, compared with 141.6 for the corresponding week of October, 1913. The cost of living goes up instead of down; foreign producers are presented with a free market, and the Treasury funds continue to dwindle.

America First.

(Pittsburg Gazette-Times.)

Perhaps nothing could more strikingly illustrate the anomaly in what we are pleased to call our political liberty and freedom of speech than that the President of the United States should create a sensation merely by publicly declaring himself in favor of "America first," as Mr. Wilson did on Monday. We are told, on one hand, that this is to be the Democratic campaign slogan for 1916; and on the other that the President's statement is to be accepted as that of a settled policy. As far as he is concerned—and we have his own word for it—such of our people as do not subscribe unqualifiedly to be ideal of "America first" are to be ostracized by him, at least in opinion; and this he describes as being a more hurtful experience to the object than physical hardship.

In the name of all that is commonplace and conventional in the relations of the individual to the country of his nativity of adoption, why should the cry "America first!" by an American president be deemed remarkable? Is this any more to be marveled at than that Emperor Wilhelm should exclaim for Germany first, Czar Nicholas for Russia first, King George for Great Britain first, Francis Joseph for Austria first, President Poincaré for France first, Victor Emmanuel for Italy first, and so on to the end of the roll? Can it be that it has remained for Woodrow Wilson, on the eve of a campaign for re-election in which the Democratic party is in dire danger of defeat, to discover that it is the necessary and crafty thing to do, as between us and the nations of Europe and their aspirations in this war, for the President of the United States to "let it be known" that he actually prefers America first? If this is all the Democratic party has to go on next year, what it needs is the prayers of the righteous, not the votes of the Chauvins.

CONNERSVILLE MAYOR IS VEXED

Says he Will Send Men Coming From Adjoining Cities to Get Drunk to The Penal Farm

RUSHVILLE CASE IS CITED

Young Man From Here Declared it Was His First Offense And Mayor Let Him Off Easy

The mayor of Connersville is greatly vexed because men from the surrounding cities come there to get intoxicated, or else get intoxicated after they get there, and as a result he has issued a warning. He threatens to send a few of these men to the penal farm and all Rushville men who have been going to Connersville for their "booze" had better take warning. The following from the Connersville Examiner explains the mayor's position:

"I am tired of men coming to Connersville from adjoining cities for the purpose of getting intoxicated," said Mayor Braun this morning. "Hereafter when the characters make their appearance in police court, they will be given the maximum fine, and on the second offense to the Penal Farm they will go."

This morning a young man living in Rushville was brought into the city court charged with public intoxication. Officer Harry Myers took him in charge last evening. The defendant pleaded guilty but said that it was his first offense. As the young men explained, he was not a habitual drunkard, and for the sake of his parents, he would like to be dismissed.

Mayor Braun said that he was glad to hear it was his first offense. Also he stated had it been a second or third, the defendant would be doomed for a two months' stay at the farm. The court advised the Rushville man to make an effort not to repeat the offense in this or any other city.

The fellow was fined a dollar and costs and it is understood will stay the amount sometime today. Today's case is only one of a dozen which come to the attention of the Mayor during each month. Recently three men from Hamilton were apprehended on a like charge. These men, so the police believe, wanted to break into jail. In such instances, it has been the custom to detail officers to escort the defendants to the city limits.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Oct. 29.—Tomorrow's football schedule, taken as a whole, is a rather drab looking affair. It is, however, the lull before the storm that will break the following week when Yale and Princeton start the first game of the famous "Big Three."
The most exciting fuse tomorrow should be the Yale-Colgate game at New Haven. Yale, with LeGore gone, doesn't look like the Yale team of old, despite the frantic efforts of the Blue mentors to whip a squad in shape that will preserve Yale prestige. In Colgate, Coach Larry Barkart has a scrappy, aggressive eleven which made its best showing of the season two weeks ago by administering a neat drubbing to the Army, 13 to 0. The quarrel at New Haven may turn out to be a real one unless Frank Hinkey has accomplished more with the Elis in the last two weeks than appears on the surface.
Harvard should not, on past performances, have a great deal of trouble with Penn State, although the State College athletes have not lost a game this season and number among their victims Pennsylvania. The recent discovery that there are as many points in Capt. Eddie Mahan's toe as there were in Charley Brickley's has given the Crimson an enviable position on the do-shceet. Penn State appears to be a little weak on the defense, which will be fatal to her chances against

RICHMOND TEAM COMING TO WIN
Manager Send Word Here That he Will Bring Best Available Team to Rushville Sunday
NO CHANGES IN LOCAL TEAM
The Rushville football team expects a hard game Sunday afternoon as the Richmond team has sent word here they are coming to win. Manager Brehm of the Richmond crew has lined up a classy bunch, with plenty of weight and speed and the local boys will be forced to the limit if they get away with a victory. Manager Stonecipher will use the same lineup as last Sunday in the Wilkinson game. The line showed to good advantage in this game and he believes his troubles are now over, as this was the source of all the trouble. The team has been working out every night this week in preparation for the game Sunday and the team is in good shape. The contest Sunday will be started at 2:30 o'clock.
Big leaguers will be seen in action in the ball game between Brookville and Connersville next Sunday afternoon at Whitewater Park, Connersville. Admission 25c. Ladies free. 1915

FALSE TESTIMONY CASE GETS HEARING
One of Steps Involved in Wiley Estate in Greensburg Which Has Caused Much Litigation
(By United Press.)
Greensburg, Ind., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Hugh F. Wiley, charged with giving false testimony before the grand jury was given a preliminary hearing in a justice's court here today.
Mrs. Wiley's appearance before the grand jury was one of a series of legal proceedings in which the Wiley estate is involved. Wiley, the husband, is in an asylum. Proceedings to annul the marriage of the Wileys was brought in Circuit court some time ago. Mrs. Wiley was called before the grand jury and questioned about a former marriage. She is said to have sworn that she was married to Ernest Bagby in St. Louis some years ago. She is said to have given the dates and names and even named the clergyman who tied the knot.
The prosecutor says he has evidence that there is no such person as Ernest Bagby.
Wiley, much older than his wife, has a valuable estate tied up in the litigation. Mrs. Wiley is fighting for her pecuniary rights as the legal wife.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—“I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book ‘Wisdom for Women,’ and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life.”—Mrs. JOHN TETREAU, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—“I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it ‘Anemia and Exhaustion,’ and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound brought me out all right.”—Miss LAVISA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound.

BIBLE STUDY AGAIN BOBS UP

Question of Allowing Credit For it in Schools Again Cause of Discussion Among Teachers

UNIFORM EXAMINATIONS

No Attempt Will be Made to Bring Bible in Schools, But Study Will be on The Outside

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Representatives of the Indiana cities and towns where credit is given in the schools for bible study were to meet this afternoon at 5 o’clock in the Severin hotel to organize in order that the work may be conducted with more system. William Otto, chairman of the meeting, said that a committee would be appointed which would draw up examination questions for the approval of the state board of education. Chairman Otto said the following towns and cities allow credit for bible study done outside the school hours: Evansville, Connersville, Salem, Howell, Wabash, Oakland City, Boswell, Fairmount, Berne, Kokomo, Shelbyville, Warsaw, Worthington, Summitville, Leavenworth and Franklin. A board of control will be selected consisting of a representative from each of the places named.

Otto said he did not expect any discord in the meeting, but that if any appeared it would be from the element which fears that an attempt is being made to “bring the bible back into the schools.” Otto said there was no danger of that, for all the study under the ruling of the state board is done away from the school buildings.

Asked what was the reason for uniform examinations, Otto said that it was desired to remove any possibility of local religious bias affecting the bible study. The course of study for the bible work, he said, also was uniform.

Indianapolis has in the past few weeks been the battle ground for those who favor and oppose the giving of credit for bible study. The board of education recently tabled a motion that such credit be given. The Church Federation then got busy, and prepared a resolution asking the board to allow such credit and condemning its previous action. This resolution was read in practically every protestant church in the city, and in most instances by a big vote, the church congregations gave the resolution enthusiastic approval.

The fight for and against the teaching of the bible in the schools has been waged in Indiana for years.

RHEUMA

Recognized by Druggists as a Specific for Rheumatism and Kidney Troubles.

Are you suffering from some form of rheumatism? Then you need a remedy for that disease only—not a preparation said to cure all the ills of the human body. Drive out the cause.

Rheuma cleanses the kidneys of the poisonous uric acid secretions; opens the clogged veins so that the healthy blood can pass along the dead matter from the entire system; regulates disordered bowels, and enables a sluggish liver to convert thin, impure blood into rich, life-giving corpuscles. When this is accomplished the source of the disease will be wiped out.

Rheuma is free from dangerous drugs. During the treatment the digestive organs are not deranged—Rheuma creates a healthy appetite. Sold by F. B. Johnson & Co. and all druggists. Do not conflict Rheuma with other preparations of similar name—insist on the genuine—in liquid form.

WARNS AGAINST BIG BOND ISSUE

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho Declares That United States Needs Larger Revenue.

SEES INDUSTRIAL DANGERS

He Says That Present Generation and Not Posterity Will Have to Pay For War Preparedness.

New York, October 26.—A Washington dispatch to the New York Sun says:

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, in an interview discussed important economic questions that will come before the next session of the congress, and particularly the condition of industrial life in the United States immediately following the close of the European war.

“It is probable that the most difficult part of the program of preparedness will be that of the manner of raising the revenue to take care of expenses,” said Senator Borah. “We certainly ought not to be called upon to issue bonds. It would be unwise and unjust to do so. It would seem that at a time of peace and when we are enjoying tremendous profits from feeding and arming and financing great armies in Europe we ought to be able to take care of the expenses of a reasonable program of preparedness without resorting to the selling of bonds.

“It is a wise rule in these matters, and certainly in times of peace, to pay as we go, and not put upon posterity our expenditures. I can not speak for any one except myself, and do not assume to, but I am very much opposed to the issuing of bonds, and shall to the extent of my limited influence oppose it.”

“In fact, it must be apparent to any one that our revenue laws are not working satisfactorily. We gave up some of our best sources of revenue in the Underwood bill and have undertaken to make up for it by imposing an annoying and burdensome special tax. No one has benefited in the least by cutting off $28,000,000 which we were collecting on wool. The consumers have not been benefited has been derived from giving over the $20,000,000 on sugar, and the proposal embodied in the law, astounding as it seems, is to give over $40,000,000 more. These two items alone about make up the amount which is levied in the way of a special war tax, although the only thing the war had to do with the tax was to christen it.

“We now have a tariff tax, an income tax, and internal revenue tax, a special ‘war tax,’ and it is proposed to issue bonds. We will have to turn back and overhaul the Underwood bill and reconstruct it so as to make it at least a revenue-producing bill if nothing more. It was pointed out very clearly during its enactment that it would not produce sufficient revenue, and it was disclosed even before the war broke out that it was inefficient as a revenue-producing bill.”

“It is but fair also that a fair proportion of these tremendous profits derived from war orders should go to the meeting of expenses of the program of preparedness. The big incomes and profits of these days are those derived from war orders and war conditions, and whatever plan of revenue is provided for should incorporate some scheme for utilizing some of these profits to take care of these proposed expenses.

“In other words, whatever we do and however we do it we should incur no expenses connected with this that we do not take care of as we go along. A slipshod, slovenly program of sliding this debt on to posterity by the sale of bonds would ultimately kill any program of preparedness and ought to. It is neither necessary nor just to issue bonds.

But I venture to believe that we are no better prepared for peace than we are for war. If you will reflect upon the conditions of this country industrially as they existed before the war, and as to the probable conditions which will likely follow the war, it must be apparent that we are not prepared for peace.

“Therefore, while we are calling in experts to assist in a program by means of which we are to build up the navy and strengthen the army it would be a most wise and provident thing if we would call the judgment of expert economists and publicists to consider where we shall stand industrially and how we shall meet the shall have ended. I am frank to say industrial situation when the war I am much more interested in the preparedness for peace than for war, although I think both important.”

“Everyone seems to concede that the situation will be a serious one. The department of commerce has sent out a bulletin asking for suggestions how best to protect ourselves against the invasion of the industrial army after the war. Certain it is that the standard of living will be reduced to the lowest possible level in Europe. It is equally certain that wages also will be reduced to the lowest possible level. Yet Europe, combined Europe, will be fighting to regain her markets. Our laborers will come in fierce competition with European labor. Our manufacturers, our farmers and producers will come in fierce competition with the manufacturers, our farmers and producers of Europe.

“Germany will emerge from the war the best organized industrial unit in the world. The energy, the capacity, the talents of her people thoroughly diversified will yet be mobilized as no nation ever has had the energies of her people mobilized before. The merchant of England understand this perfectly. The other day when Lloyd George was seeking to interest certain manufacturers in certain lines of industry, they said to him: ‘If the government will give us sufficient protection in the way of a tariff so that we may feel safe as against organized Germany when the war is over, we will be glad to put our money into this enterprise.’

“England and France are both learning in these days how to unite, organize and mobilize the industrial energies of their people. When the war is over we will know a new Europe industrially, and we are not prepared to fight for our own markets, much less the markets of the world as against combined Europe, aroused as she will be to uncommon energy to regain her markets and pay off her tremendous debts. The pressure of Europe which will spur her to the highest endeavor will be no less in peace than in war.

“Our laboring men will be the first to feel the effect of it, for we must bear in mind that at the breaking out of this war there were 3,000,000 working men out of work in this country, and they did not go to work until the war orders came in. We all recall that the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Baldwin locomotive works and the steel plants were laying off men continually. Of course, they are all busy now.

“The manufacturer and the farmer will feel the strain also, and this fierce competition in the same way. We shall be careless and short-sighted to the last degree if we do not prepare against these days. We should, through a most thoroughly equipped nonpartisan board of experts, gather the most effective data possible, and the best judgment upon how best to meet the situation, and when this expert knowledge is had the congress should act without delay.

“I feel sure we ought to readjust our tariff laws, but that we ought to do so only upon a broad scale and upon a plan commensurate with the situation which confronts us and after a most thorough gathering of data and the opinion of those who have given consideration of the subject in the light of present conditions.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)

Since Mrs. Galt has called a halt On Paris modes awhile, We now will go By B. & O.

To Baltimore for style. New York, Oct. 29.—Baltimore is a fine place for frocks and oysters. Like the succulent bivalves, the models turned out by the dressmakers of the Maryland city are apt to be either much stirred or scalloped. None of the sartorial efforts have been panned, however, although panniers are much in evidence on many.

Although the suit and afternoon gowns ordered at Baltimore by Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, the prospective first lady of the land, are two of "Bolling green" and one of seal brown, it is a safe bet that her Baltimore trosser will not be complete without at least one frock of oyster white.

Mrs. Galt has evinced a preference for Georgette crepe since both her green and brown afternoon gowns are combinations of this soft, clinging material with either taffeta or chiffon. Her blouses also are crepe Georgette and indeed not only the first but every lady of the land seems to have a penchant for this fabric. It is being utilized every place and for everything where once the chiffon reigned supreme.

There is hardly an afternoon model for the season that does not show transparent sleeves of the crepe Georgette; and particularly in the wide bell sleeves banded in fur in this fabric charming.

It has even crept closer to feminine hearts as airy fashioned undergarments, and as nighties, chemises, petticoats, princess slips and combinations it adapts itself enchantingly.

While on the delicate subject of Georgette underwear I want to describe with bated breath a sensational set of intimate garments on display in a Fifth avenue shop window. The complete set consisted of a chemise of very wide cobwebby black net lace hung straight from shoulder straps of inch wide black satin ribbon, a pair of long lace pantalets on a black ribbon band, a brassiere of black satin ribbon and lace; and a petticoat, in case the weather should be chill, is permissible to be held in reserve.

It is like the chemise, just a full fall of this wide lace gathered on a black satin ribbon around the waist. This shop window of inky, slinky garments comes in for a good share of black looks.

Indeed, to keep it dark seems about the best thing to do with this modern lingerie set of ebony hue.

This same shop is offering another sensation in the shape of high velvet shoes buttoned with little filigree ball buttons of gilt. One pair is of burnt orange velvet and the pair of silk hose to match has a cunning little fat chinaman embroidered on the ankle.

Burnt orange, by the way, is a very popular color for seasonable evening gowns. Wondrous velvet ones of burnt orange are heavily embroidered in silver and combined with silver lace. Dark fur bandings are also stunning combined with the burnt orange velvet. Gorgeous evening mantles of this combination are as effective as any of the other vivid velvets not shown in these voluminous garments.

I glimpsed a petite brunette actress successfully exploiting the burnt orange coloring on Fifth avenue one warm day last week. She was without a wrap and her full short skirted dress was of orange and olive green figured chiffon made with a tight-boned bodice laced with an orange cord over a guimpe of burnt orange crepe Georgette with full bell sleeves. With this she wore high buttoned shoes of olive green kid. It was a case of a pair of green kids, but no trio, if you please! I wonder if this outfit came from Baltimore!

BAD CONDITION

Retreat From This City Was Terrible

Event as Three Million Refugees Are Left

LEFT SUDDENLY IN PANIC

Damages in Two Sections But Most of Shops Were Destroyed And

Nothing of Value RemainedBY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Kowno, Russia, Sept. 27 (By Courier to Berlin Mail to New York)—Back of the Russian retreat there is said to be nearly 3,000,000 refugees. I got a glimpse of what a terrible event a retreat is, at the railroad station last night and in the city today.

For a while the Russian retreat was so rapid that the fleeing civilians could not keep up and these—especially Jews—are returning to their empty homes.

Kowno must have been evacuated suddenly and in a panic. The stores are in the most delapidated condition and the store-keepers and their families who have returned, stand about in their empty, dirty, destroyed shells, broken-hearted.

When we arrived at the station a freight train came in bearing wounded Germans from the firing line. In several of the box cars were returning refugees. Bare footed women hovering about in straw, their black and vari-colored shawls drawn tightly about them—frightened and cold.

The things they brought with them added another unbelievable aspect to the general destitution. I saw a woman with barely enough clothes to cover her body bringing back a sewing machine. A boy and his father carried a sack of possessions and a white kitten!

In the city there remains the pitiful old women and men who could not undergo the hardships of miles and miles of traveling by foot. They had to stay during the bombardment of the town, while the shells flew as black birds down the streets and over the city. No cellars or bomb-proof trenches hid them. Their sufferings must have been terrible.

Today they are trekking about the city, barefooted and leaning on old old handmade canes. Sunday they were in the churches, crawling about the altars for hours, silently repeating prayers and walking up to kiss the cross of the feet on the gold statue of Christ.

Some are kneeling or sitting in the deserted confessionals. I have seen but one Russian priest in Kowno and there are 25,000 people here.

Along the stone cobbled streets, ramble the peasants' wagons—perhaps a mother and her family lying in the straw and the giant peasant walking along besides. Further back comes a family group driving the cow. Everywhere there are German soldiers and groups of Russian prisoners marching from one part of the town to another.

Large auto trucks—in constant communication with the front—hurry through the city. Big touring cars bearing officers everywhere.

Such is Kowno today—a city formerly of 80,000 inhabitants, exclusive of the garrison for the 9 forts. To the visitor, Kowno appears like a Southern town with but three or four palatial residences and hundreds and hundreds of negro huts.

The buildings, aside from their wrecked appearance, are poorly constructed and badly furnished.

The city was damaged in two sections by the bombardment. The fronts of the houses on some streets bear evidences of machine gun fire.

The wall of the church across from city hall are splashed with blood and the heavy iron fence around the monument is split in some places as fine as kindling wood. Many large buildings were destroyed by fire.

Warnings of danger from cholera and fever are posted in all public places and the inhabitants and soldiers are forbidden to drink unboiled water or eat fresh fruit.

The sewage system of Kowno is bad. Winter has not yet set in and flies are everywhere. In the hotels and restaurants which the Germans have reopened, one eats with one hand and chases flies with the other.

Beer, books and cigars follow the German flag! Beer is brought down here by boat over the Nemel river and books and newspapers come by every post. The city is also stocked with cigars and cigarettes for the fleeing Russians didn't leave enough behind to supply their abandoned soldiers.

Meat and wheat are plentiful and the inhabitants bake their own white bread, a luxury even in Germany today. The city appears to have more than its share of wounded and every available large building is turned into a hospital.

Dr. Prussinn said the Russians abandoned 1200 severe cases, leaving only a few Red Cross nurses to care for them. A Russian doctor captured early in the war has been brought here to take charge of this hospital.

NERVES STEADY
AND HIS FOOD
TASTES RIGHTGeorge Moorhead, of Cincinnati, Says Tanlac Helped Him.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 28.—George Moorhead, who lives at 920 Riverside avenue, this city, had the following to say recently in regard to Tanlac, the new preparation that is creating such favorable impression in Cincinnati:

"I have complained of nervous stomach trouble for some time. My digestive organs were not in shape and the condition grew worse constantly until it was difficult for me to eat anything with relish. What little I did eat didn't taste just right. I was nervous and run-down, suffering greatly in hot weather.

"After seeing Tanlac advertised and hearing of the good it had done others, I decided to try it. That decision was one of the most fortunate of my life. Now the pains in my stomach have vanished, I no longer have headaches. My appetite is good and I thoroughly enjoy everything I eat. I feel vigorous and energetic. My nerves are in better condition than they have been in a long time."

L. T. Cooper the Tanlac Man, said in discussing Mr. Moorhead's case: "Tanlac rebuilds the system, creates a healthy appetite, promotes digestion and assimilation and vitalizes the blood."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is sold in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as rational designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer, Mr. A. H. Schrichte. J. B. SCHRICHTE SONS MONUMENTS 117-121 S. MAIN ST.

Nice and Wear Well. That's the Kind.

Everybody wants a nice storm buggy and I have one for everybody. Some of my competitors are going to quit selling buggies, or at least they advertise they are, and I am going to take their word for it, and just between ourselves, I have been looking for it for sometime, and I have reason for looking for it. Every year I sell more buggies than I did the year before and there is not much room left for competition. You naturally ask the question "How do you increase your buggy business all the time?" and the answer is that I give more buggy value for the money than anyone else, treat everybody alike and treat them right. I can prove I give more value for the money than my competitors as I am handling a storm buggy this winter, formally sold by one of my competitors, and I am selling it for $10.00 less than it ever sold for before, remember the same buggy for $10.00 less. Maybe you bought one last year and paid the extra $10.00. If you did, remember when you need a buggy look around. It has saved lots of vehicle buyers money to buy them of me, and I want you for a customer. The only way you can sell things right, is to buy them right, and not throwing any bouquets at myself, I sure buy right and I want to give you the advantage of good buying. Good buying, and a large volume of business make it possible for me to sell you a buggy from $10.00 to $15.00 cheaper than any one else. It is a simple proposition to figure out how it is done, and when you get ready to buy a buggy, buy where the majority buy, and save.

COMMENTS ON RECEPTION HERE

Earl Mushlitz, Associate Editor of the Star, Writes of Visit of Indianapolis Wholesalers.

THEIR THIRD TRIP TO CITY

Boosters Feel Annual Horse Show and Festival Would Not be Right Without Their Presence.

Earl Mushlitz, associate editor and special correspondent of the Indianapolis Star, this morning had a very complimentary article, from Rushville's point of view, concerning the Indianapolis trade boosters visit in this city Thursday afternoon. He wrote of the combined visit to Connersville and Rushville but only that part concerning Rushville is reproduced here:

Indianapolis wholesalers forsook their sample cases, but took their most friendly grips along on a handshaking expedition among merchants and business men of Connersville and Rushville yesterday. Forty-five men, officers and sales directors of large jobbing houses, made the trip in special cars of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, under the auspices of the wholesale trade division of the Chamber of Commerce. It was the sixth trade-extension tour of the year.

Rushville offered a special attraction to the Indianapolis party in the eighth annual Rush County Horse Show and Street Fair, and the capital city boosters feel, after visits to Rushville in horse show week in two successive years, that they have formed the Rushville habit and that hereafter the show will not be complete without their presence.

In both cities the wholesalers paraded the downtown streets behind the Newsboys' Band, which gave informal concerts while the members of the party dispersed to make business calls. Every parader wore a "Heart of Trade" badge, and carried the green umbrellas which have marked the extension trips for several years.

Rushville, aflame with colorful bunting in honor of horse show week and the Odd Fellow celebration next week, was crowded with home people and country folk who came to see the horse show and numerous street attractions. The Indianapolis party was welcomed by a Chamber of Commerce committee of which E. R. Casady was chairman. Immediately after the parade the party was assembled on the Court House steps and 3,000 Rush county citizens listened while their fellow townsmen and the Indianapolis orators renewed pledges of friendship and co-operation.

John H. Kiplinger was chairman of the informal gathering, and there were speeches by S. L. Trabue, president of the chamber of commerce, and James E. Watson, a distinguished citizen to whose welfare and advancement Rushville is always keenly alive. Mr. Watson spoke in happy vein of the intimate ties between his home city and Indianapolis.

"Indianapolis is foremost in interurbans, a leading railroad center, the first inland city of the country and one whose business houses compare favorably with those of the largest centers," said Mr. Watson. "We are glad to welcome the wholesale dealers of Indianapolis, because they come from a city that is not surpassed by any other in the country."

"Too much has been said about business to put it under suspicion. Business has been discriminated against. We of Rush county believe, when we welcome you, that we are welcoming honest, conscientious men, who are exponents of the square deal."

Responding on behalf of Indianapolis G. Barret Moxley said that Indianapolis jobbers were paying their third visit to Rushville. He spoke of the strength of Rushville merchants and of their importance in the community.

"We try on these trips to impress the doctrine of reciprocity because we are all interrelated, although we live in different cities," continued Mr. Moxley. "You sell us your cattle and hogs and grain, and we sell you our commodities, which you buy from your merchants with the money that has been contributed in considerable part by the Indianapolis dealers in live stock and grain. We jobbers are here to renew acquaintance with your merchants, because we feel that it is to our advantage, as well as theirs, to be on the most intimate terms with them, and always keep fully informed of their wants, and through them of your wants."

While Rushville is dependent in a considerable measure on a rich agricultural county for its trade and commercial prominence, boasting of the largest yield of hogs recorded for any county in Indiana last year, it has a number of factories, among which are the Rushville Furniture Company, the Innis-Pearce Furniture Company and the Park Furniture Company, the J. D. Case Lumber Company, with a large planing mill, and an Indianapolis connection in the Ferree-Case Lumber Company; the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber Company and the Reynolds Manufacturing Company manufacturers of lumber and stock sizes.

Connersville and Rushville are liberally equipped with banks and trust companies, all of them on a sound and flourishing basis. Both cities are products of home capital.

The day was not without its political significance at Rushville. Mr. Watson was busy with home folk and the horse show gave an opportunity to Mayor R. O. Johnson of Gary to circulate among Rush county citizens and let them know of his candidacy for Governor on the Republican ticket. P. J. Lynch of Newcastle, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in Congress from the Sixth District, was among the busiest handshakers.

CITY TRYING TO LOCATE SMELL

Indianapolis Bothered Everytime
Wind Blows From Southeast—
All Deny Responsibility.

ESPECIALLY THE PACKERS

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Wanted: Some one with a nose to trace an evil smell to its source.

Every southeast breeze over Indianapolis brings to the business section and a portion of the north side a smell that would do credit to the Chicago packing houses. Put the city professes not to know where the smell comes from. Every day after such a smell has hit the city the local papers phone superintendent of Kingan & Co., packers, and the various other plants, including the Indianapolis Reduction Co., and each time they are informed that the smell does not come from these plants.

That settles it and the city does not know yet where the smell originates.

MOTOR PARADE IS HELD TODAY

Fifty New and Recently Purchased
Cars in Exhibition—Airship
Flight This Afternoon.

The fall festival and horse show is gradually drawing to a close. With the firing of the last varied colored bomb at the ball park tonight, the eighth annual fall event will pass into history to be remembered as the best one ever held.

A parade of new and recently purchased automobiles this morning marked the opening of the day's program. An airship flight was made this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. At 1 o'clock the combination sale opened at the Clark sale barn and will continue until Saturday evening.

Even though there was an unusually large crowd here Thursday, there were many people back again this morning for the automobile parade. There were about fifty cars in the parade, led by the Knights-town Home band.

Leading the parade was Walter Capp's automobile carrying committee men and following were automobile truck furnished by the Innes-Pepper company, Fred A. Caldwell's furniture store and George C. Wyatt & company's furniture store, hauling the band.

All the automobiles displayed at the automobile show were in the parade and agents brought out patrons to whom they had sold cars recently.

Automobiles represented in the parade were: Maxwells, Studebakers, Monroes, Chevrolts, Overlands, Paiges, Willys-Knight, Oaklands, Marmons, Buicks, Fords, Briscoes, Lexingtons, Franklins, Saxons, Hupp, McFarlane and Auburns.

Large crowds of people attended the automobile show Thursday night and those who displayed cars are reported as being well pleased with the exhibition.

The program of fireworks was larger than usual and some new set pieces that had not been on previous programs were shown. Fireworks will be the attraction tonight. There will be dancing at the Knights of Pythias pavilion and the concessions will still be running.

Two nice exhibitions were given with the airship Thursday afternoon.

Pay Fines After Encounter

Bryon Wright and Amos Stevens, on October 14, settled a grudge of long standing by resorting to the manly art, and then both appeared before Squire Kratzer and pleaded guilty to assault and battery. They paid their fines yesterday. According to the story told Prosecutor Stevens, Wright invited Stevens to get out of his rig and fight. Stevens complied with the request and as a result of both men pleading guilty it was taken by men in the Squire's office that the fight must have been a draw. The fines assessed were $1 and costs.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES INDICATED

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 29.—The Republican national committee will meet in Washington December 14 to select a convention city and begin mobilization for 1916. Chairman Hill's made this announcement today. He indicated the lines along which the campaign to restore the Republican party to power will be waged. They are:

First, an attack upon the Democratic tariff.

Second, criticism of the Wilson's administration's handling of foreign affairs both in Mexico and Europe.

SPECIAL POLICE RETAINED

The police department is striving for a "safe and sane" halloween tomorrow night when the event will be celebrated here. Destruction of property will not be tolerated and the city officials will attempt to make everyone follow the law. Because halloween comes on Saturday night the usual large crowd of fun makers is expected on the streets and the police hope to make the celebration more along orderly lines than ever before.

Extra police will be on duty in both the business and resident districts to see that order is maintained and the damage to property kept down to a minimum. The special police who have been on duty this week for the fall festival and horse show will be retained for Saturday night.

A POLITE CITY

(By United Press.)

Brazil, Oct. 29.—"Brazil, the politest city in Indiana," is what the council wants this city to be called. The council has ordered taken down the signs at the corporation limits demanding that motorists proceed at a certain rate and has ordered on their place signs, asking that visitors "please exercise caution" and others thanking them when they leave.

NEW CABINET IS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Premier Aristide Briand Makes Public Appointments For French Positions.

OLD CABINET HAS RESIGNED

(By United Press.)

Paris, Oct. 29.—Aristide Briand, the new premier, this afternoon completed his cabinet and made four additional selections. The full list follows:

Aristide Briand, premier and minister of foreign affairs; Jules Cambon, general secretary without portfolio; Charles De Freycinet, Vibiani, minister of justice; General Gallieni, minister of war; Admiral Lecomte, minister of marine; Alexander Fribot, minister of finance; Emile Dumergues, commercial minister; Paul Painleve, minister of education and invention; Marcel Sembat, minister of public works; Clementel, minister of commerce; René Renoult, minister of labor. It was decided also to retain the four under secretariats of war created by the retiring war minister. The old cabinet resigned yesterday.

"WAR TAX" IS $21.95

The Rushville Co-operative Telephone company's statement to the government for the collection of the "war tax" on telephone messages for the month of September shows a total of 2,195 calls on which a tax aggregating $21.95 was collected. The long-distance business of the company holds up remarkably well as the report varies but little from month to month.

LARGE SUMS OF MONEY PAID

Tax Payments on Thursday Alone
Amount to $19,000

Large sums of money continue to roll into the coffers of Rush county through the payments of the fall installment of taxes. Yesterday collections totalled $10,000. The rush was again on early this morning at the office of the county treasurer. Many people took advantage of the office being open last night. The office will be open again tonight, Saturday night and Monday night. Monday night is the last chance to pay taxes without the added penalty of ten per cent for collection.

KING GEORGE IS CONFINED TO BED

CONDITION IS NOT SERIOUS

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 29.—King George is suffering from severe bruises due to a fall from his horse, it was announced today.

The king is confined to his bed. He passed a fair night, his doctors stated. His temperature was given as 99 and 2/10, his pulse as 75.

His majesty's accident occurred Thursday morning. He was inspecting the army in the field in Northern France when his horse fell, excited by the troops' cheers. It was said the king must remain in bed "for the present."

Assurance was given that he had improved over night, however, and that there were no complications.

The Prince of Wales, who has been at the front in France arrived this afternoon at Buckingham palace.

SHE HAD RELATIVES HERE

Body of Mrs. Henry Kramer Will be Buried at East Hill.

Mrs. Lessie R. Kramer, wife of Henry Kramer, and sister-in-law of Harry Kramer and Mrs. Bert Mullin of this city, died Thursday at her home in Indianapolis. Mrs. Kramer was well known here, having visited relatives in Rushville on numerous occasions. The remains will be brought here Saturday morning, arriving at eleven o'clock and will be taken direct to East Hill cemetery for burial. The funeral services will be conducted at the late residence, 658 Davidson street, Indianapolis, tomorrow morning at eight-thirty o'clock.

INFANT BATES DIES

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bates died this morning at their home in West Ninth street. Burial will take place tomorrow in East Hill cemetery. Their child was born yesterday.

BROTHER OF LOCAL MAN

Philip Miller received word this morning of the death of his brother, John Miller, at his home twelve miles south of Brookville. Mr. Miller was operated on some six weeks ago and never fully recovered. The funeral will probably be held next Tuesday.

The masked social which was to have been given Saturday night by Mahoning council No. 36 D. of P. has been declared off on account of the fall festival and horse show.

FORT WAYNE WOMAN WINS

Mrs. Clarke Fairbank Elected President Over Mrs. L. J. Cox—
Other Officers Named

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Formal announcement was made today that Mrs. Clarke Fairbank of Fort Wayne was elected president of the Federation of Clubs over Mrs. L. J. Cox of Terre Haute. The convention elected to follow custom and not to hear the election figures.

Mrs. Cox had become known as the liberal candidate. Other officers elected were first vice-president, Dr. Amelia Keller of Indianapolis; second vice-president, Mrs. V. F. Jones of South Bend; recording secretary, Mrs. W. S. Johnson of Bloomington; general federation secretary, Mrs. E. C. Earl of Connersville; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ella J. Moore of Kokomo; treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Torrance of Indianapolis; auditor, Mrs. A. T. Cox of East Chicago and trustee, Mrs. S. E. Perkins of Indianapolis.

The motion that the federation not hear the election figures was made by Dr. Keller, one of the chief backers of Mrs. Cox.

Announcement of the result was greeted with moderate applause. Mrs. Cox occupied her seat on the platform as parliamentarian.

This was the first serious reverse ever suffered in the federation by Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke of Indianapolis, long a leader in Indiana club circles. She championed the cause of Mrs. Cox. Mrs. S. E. Stimson was the leader on the victorious side.

It became known this afternoon from an apparently reliable source that Mrs. Fairbank was elected by a large majority. It was reported that Mrs. Cox's home district, the fifth, gave a large majority to Mr. Fairbank.

Among the resolutions adopted today were: That the state condemn and buy Turkey Run P., a public park; that June 10 be set aside for Indiana day and that bill boards be abolished.

It appeared today that the federation might weather the storm of the presidential fight. Mrs. Fairbanks said:

"Let us forget all unpleasantness. Do not congratulate me now. I feel the situation too keenly."

George W. Grigg has filed a claim against the estate of the late William Helm in which he demands $62.

The Hunting Season

This is the "hunting season" in more ways than those marked by the bang of the gun.

It is the season when we are on the hunt for new attire, for new things for the home, and for many necessities for personal comfort.

It is a sort of prelude to what might be called the "dress-up" season of the year.

It is a season when the stores are at their best and when the advertising columns of a live newspaper, like The Daily Republican, are bursting with human interest.

BARGAINS ARE ALWAYS ADVERTISEDCounty News*Plum Creek

There were 109 at Sunday school last Sunday. Recitations were given by the Misses Myrtle Jones and Helen Murphy.

Mrs. Ivy Smalley is reported to be sick.

The pie social at Gings Friday evening was a success. Miss Opal Kiser was awarded the cake for being the most popular young woman.

George W. Kemmer and family spent Tuesday evening with Harry McMillin and family.

Miss Hazel Rider was the guest of Miss Clara Carson Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Meyer planned to start this week on a pleasure trip through the west.

Walter Carson and family were guests of Lewis Huff and family near Newcastle last Sunday.

Following the night of the serenading of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gordon, another crowd of fifty-seven people came from the latter's neighborhood near Occident and gave them a second serenading, but this time they also combined with it a miscellaneous shower. They received many handsome and useful gifts, and the evening was a most enjoyable one and the guests were amused in many ways. Those present were: Hal Green and family, Chester Cross and family, Mrs. Bowen and family, W. B. Ahermuth and family, Lat Sampson and family, Chase Cross and family, Jess Gilson and family, Gary Oldham and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bette Newhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Gartin, Mr. and Mrs. Garlund Newkirk, Mr. and Mrs. Gont Oldham, Will Bell and family, F. M. Gordon and family, and the Misses Hazel and Vera Kiser, Elsie Graze, Opal Winkler, Ruby Howe and Bessie Morris, and Orval Porter, William Kiser, Garrol Clifton, Chalmers Nixon, Eddie Mullen, James Morris, Kellis Porter, Edward Bell and Andrew Golden. Refreshments of candy, cider and cigars were served.

Several went to the home of Mrs. Jane Alexander in Fairview Monday evening and gave her a genuine surprise by taking her a number of useful things. Mr. Alexander is a cripple and can not get about as others do. She appreciated the presents immensely.

Charles Bales and family of Rushville were the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bales, at Raleigh Sunday.

AUTUMN PRAISE SERVICE.

A special autumn praise service will be held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night at seven o'clock. It will be based on the text, "The harvest is past; the summer is ended," from Jeremiah, 8:20. The pastor will make a short talk and the following musical program will be given:

"Last Rose of Summer," Plotow—Kathleen Hogsett.

"Good-Bye to Summer," Tosti—Norma Smith.

Athen—"Great and Marvelous"—Choir.

"Fare, Fare, Each Earthly Joy," Choir.

"Fading Away Like the Stars," Adams—Mixed Quartette.

"City Four Square," Deaks—Male Quartette.

This is the first of a series of special Sabbath evening services which will continue until the holidays.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of "Kid Salts," take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous "salt" is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the urine so that no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Kid Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure. It makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and cures many ailments by flushing the kidneys occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

ENTERTAINING HOME BAND

ple who have opened their hearts to the youthful visitors and made their stay here a most pleasant one; felt just as keen enjoyment as the boys and will make the little fellows better for it.

The motion picture show proprietors have demonstrated their public spiritedness by extending free privileges to their shows whenever the boys care to attend. Manager Charles Raser of the Gem Thursday gave every member of the band who attended his show a five-cent piece and told each one to spend it as he pleased.

During an intermission last night, a Rushville woman went over to the bandstand and asked to see the "baby" of the band. He was a smiling little chap of twelve years, with a wholesome-looking, happy face.

"Here's a dime," said the woman, "take it and you and one of the boys take a ride on the ferris wheel."

This is but a sample of the little things Rushville people do to make the boys' happy.

Rushville feels like the Knights-town home is almost a part of Rush county. It is located at the edge of the county. John R. Green, the director of the band, was born and raised near New Salem and has been localizing old times in Rush county with old friends here during the week. Jim Rounds, the manager of the band, is a Rush county man. He is in charge of the printing department at the home. Mr. Rounds learned his trade in the Republican office. He is a brother of Mrs. M. V. Spivey of this city.

Manager Rounds this morning stated that he wished to express his heart-felt thanks for the many courtesies and kindnesses which have been shown the boys during their stay here—especially did he wish to thank the people who kept the boys over night. The boys have been royally fed by the W. R. C. They have been feasted on fried chicken and other good things to eat.

The W. R. C. women gave the boys an extra meal this afternoon at 3:45 before they departed for the home shortly after five o'clock. As the boys passed out of the building, they were each presented with a sack of candy, gifts of the W. R. C.

J. P. Morgan Operated on For Appendicitis Today.

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 29.—J. P. Morgan, head of the great banking firm of Morgan and Company and only a short time ago the victim of a would be assassin, was operated on for appendicitis at his home at Glen Cove today. The operation was successful in every way, said an announcement from the office of Morgan & Company. Morgan is now resting comfortably and his physicians hope for an early recovery.

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

A Turco-Russian naval battle was reported off Odessa, Turkish torpedo boats bombarding the fort and sinking Russian liners, 1 Russian gunboat and 1 French steamer. Several fighting everywhere, stubborn resistance and some British gains were reported by the Allies. Belgians drove the Germans from the lower Yser valley by flooding it. Germans made advances at Rheims, the Meuse and in the Woevre district. Germans repulsed a French attack at Verdun and made gains in the Argonne, Berlin stated. Heavy fighting continued in East Prussia and the Germans were retreating along the Vistula, Russia said. Indian troops joined the defense of Tsing-tau. Admiral Lord Fisher succeeded Prince Louis of Battenberg as Britain's first sea lord.

WASHINGTON WIGWAGS

The commerce Department knows of "an umbrella making firm in the United Kingdom" that wants to purchase "ribs and frames of American manufacturers."

A Chilean bone merchant tells the Commerce department he wants "American machinery for making bone combs, bone buttons and all bone products." We can give him the machinery for everything but bone heads. They're born.

A Spanish firm in Barcelona asks the Commerce department where it can get 18,000 pounds of steel for making pens. Seems like Spain wants to put forward some tangible proof that it's one of the darned few countries left where the pen is still mightier than the sword.

"A firm in Switzerland," says the Commerce bulletin, "is in the market for tin plate to use in its condensed milk industry." We always have wondered what in thunder made it taste the way it does. Now we know.

The New York Globe says that "the industrial condition of the country is encouraging," basing its assertion on the statements of a Democratic Department of Labor. If "encouraging" is all that can be said for conditions by a "boosier," there is certainly large room for improvement. There is a vast difference between "encouraging" and "satisfactory." While there is life, there is hope, but long continued hopefulness gets monotonous.

Treat Catarrh By Nature's Method

Every Breath of Hyomei Carries Healing Medicated Air to the Infected Membrane.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it with sprays, lotions, and the like. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would probably have said the only way to help catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with a simple preparation called Hyomei you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day successfully treat yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit it inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not give permanent relief, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained at any time for a trifling sum. It is more economical than all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Johnson's Drug Store have sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more they sell, the more convinced they are that they are perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not relieve.

HOOSIER HISTORY

MORTON'S COLLEGE DAYS

In 1843 Morton entered Miami University where he spent two years, selecting for study the things he thought most useful in his career. While not exactly brilliant, he held high rank in his classes, excelling in mathematics. He was prominent in the "Ereophian" literary society and was the principal editor of its journal. It was in debate, however, that he particularly made his mark. He was known as the best debater in college. He was also a leader in athletics and a member of the college band.

The Kind Rushville Readers Cannot Doubt.

Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.

The test of time—the hardest test of all.

Thousands gratefully testify.

To quick relief—to lasting results. Rushville readers can no longer doubt the evidence.

It's convincing testimony—twice-told and well confirmed.

Rushville readers should profit by these experiences.

S. Bebout, 316 West First street, Rushville, says: "I had pains through my back and kidneys. The action of my kidneys was irregular. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon made me better."

The above statement was given on July 27, 1912, and on Aug. 25, 1915, Mr. Bebout said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have given me a cure that has remained permanent."

CONNERSVILLE MAYOR IS VEXED

Says he Will Send Men Coming From Adjoining Cities to Get Drunk, to The Penal Farm

RUSHVILLE CASE IS CITED

Young Man From Here Declared It Was His First Offense And Mayor Let Him Off Easy

The mayor of Connersville is greatly vexed because men from the surrounding cities come there to get intoxicated, or else get intoxicated after they get there, and as a result he has issued a warning. He threatens to send a few of these men to the penal farm and all Rushville men who have been going to Connersville for their "booze" had better take warning. The following from the Connersville Examiner explains the mayor's position:

"I am tired of men coming to Connersville from adjoining cities for the purpose of getting intoxicated," said Mayor Braun this morning. "Hereafter when the characters make their appearance in police court, they will be given the maximum fine, and on the second offense to the Penal Farm they will go."

This morning a young man living in Rushville was brought into the city court charged with public intoxication. Officer Harry Myers took him in charge last evening. The defendant pleaded guilty but said that it was his first offense. As the young man explained, he was not a habitual drunkard, and for the sake of his parents, he would like to be dismissed.

Mayor Braun said that he was glad to hear it was his first offense. Also he stated had it been a second or third, the defendant would be doomed for a two months' stay at the farm. The court advised the Rushville man to make an effort not to repeat the offense in this or any other city.

The fellow was fined a dollar and costs and it is understood will stay the amount sometime today. Today's case is only one of a dozen which come to the attention of the Mayor during each month. Recently three men from Hamilton were apprehended on a like charge. These men, so the police believe, wanted to break into jail. In such instances, it has been the custom to detail officers to escort the defendants to the city limits.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds

You feel this in a few moments. You hold the head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no yawning, sniffing, mucous discharges or dryness, no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head, soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

N STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Mrs. JOHN TETREAU, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYERS, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

BIBLE STUDY AGAIN BOBS UP

Question of Allowing Credit For It in Schools Again Cause of Discussion Among Teachers

UNIFORM EXAMINATIONS

No Attempt Will be Made to Bring Bible in Schools, But Study Will be on The Outside

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Representatives of the Indiana cities and towns where credit is given in the schools for bible study were to meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Severin hotel to organize in order that the work may be conducted with more system. William Otto, chairman of the meeting, said that a committee would be appointed which would draw up examination questions for the approval of the state board of education. Chairman Otto said the following towns and cities allow credit for bible study done outside the school hours: Evansville, Connorsville, Salem, Howell, Wabash, Oakland City, Bpswell, Fairmount, Berne, Kokomo, Shelbyville, Warsaw, Worthington, Summitville, Leavenworth and Franklin. A board of control will be selected consisting of a representative from each of the places named.

Otto said he did not expect any discord in the meeting, but that if any appeared it would be from the element which fears that an attempt is being made to "bring the bible back into the schools." Otto said there was no danger of that, for all the study under the ruling of the state board is done away from the school buildings.

Asked what was the reason for uniform examinations, Otto said that it was desired to remove any possibility of local religious bias affecting the bible study. The course of study for the bible work, he said, also was uniform.

Indianapolis has in the past few weeks been the battle ground for those who favor and oppose the giving of credit for bible study. The board of education recently tabled a motion that such credit be given. The Church Federation then got busy, and prepared a resolution asking the board to allow such credit and condemning its previous action. This resolution was read in practically every protestant church in the city, and in most instances by a big vote, the church congregations gave the resolution enthusiastic approval.

The fight for and against the teaching of the bible in the schools has been waged in Indiana for years.

RHEUMA

Recognized by Druggists as a Specific for Rheumatism and Kidney Troubles.

Are you suffering from some form of rheumatism? Then you need a remedy for that disease only—not a preparation said to cure all the ills of the human body. Drive out the cause.

Rheuma cleanses the kidneys of the poisonous uric acid secretions; opens the clogged veins so that the healthy blood can pass along the dead matter from the entire system; regulates disordered bowels; and enables a sluggish liver to convert thin, impure blood into rich, life-giving corpuscles. When this is accomplished the source of the disease will be wiped out.

Rheuma is free from dangerous drugs. During the treatment the digestive organs are not deranged. Rheuma creates a healthy appetite. Sold by F. B. Johnson & Co. and all druggists. Do not confound Rheuma with other preparations of similar name—insist on the genuine in liquid form.

WARNS AGAINST BIG BOND ISSUE

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho Declares That United States Needs Larger Revenue.

SEES INDUSTRIAL DANGERS

He Says That Present Generation and Not Posterity Will Have to Pay For War Preparedness.

(By United Press.)

New York, October 26.—A Washington dispatch to the New York Sun says:

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, in an interview discussed important economic questions that will come before the next session of the congress, and particularly the condition of industrial life in the United States immediately following the close of the European war.

"It is probable that the most difficult part of the program of preparedness will be that of the manner of raising the revenue to take care of expenses," said Senator Borah. "We certainly ought not to be called upon to issue bonds. It would be unwise and unjust to do so. It would seem that at a time of peace and when we are enjoying tremendous profits from feeding and arming and financing great armies in Europe we ought to be able to take care of the expenses of a reasonable program of preparedness without resorting to the selling of bonds."

"It is a wise rule in these matters, and certainly in times of peace, to pay as we go, and not put upon posterity our expenditures. I can not speak for any one except myself, and do not assume to, but I am very much opposed to the issuing of bonds, and shall to the extent of my limited influence oppose it."

"In fact, it must be apparent to any one that our revenue laws are not working satisfactorily. We gave up some of our best sources of revenue in the Underwood bill and have undertaken to make up for it by imposing an annoying and burdensome special tax. No one has benefited in the least by cutting off $28,000,000 which we were collecting on wool. The consumers have not been benefited has been derived from giving over the $20,000,000 on sugar, and the proposal embodied in the law, fastidious as it seems, is to give over $40,000,000 more. These two items alone about make up the amount which is levied in the way of a special war tax, although the only thing the war had to do with the tax was to christen it."

"We now have a tariff tax, an income tax, and internal revenue tax, a special 'war tax,' and it is proposed to issue bonds. We will have to turn back and overhaul the Underwood bill and reconstruct it so as to make it at least a revenue-producing bill if nothing more. It was pointed out very clearly during its enactment that it would not produce sufficient revenue, and it was disclosed even before the war broke out that it was inefficient as a revenue-producing bill."

"It is but fair also that a fair proportion of these tremendous profits derived from war orders should go to the meeting of expenses of the program of preparedness. The big incomes and profits of these days are those derived from war orders and war conditions, and whatever plan of revenue is provided for should incorporate some scheme for utilizing some of these profits to take care of these proposed expenses."

"In other words, whatever we do and however we do it we should incur no expenses connected with this that we do not take care of as we go along. A slipshod, slovenly program of sliding this debt on to posterity by the sale of bonds would ultimately kill any program of preparedness and ought to. It is neither necessary nor just to issue bonds. But I venture to believe that we are no better prepared for peace than we are for war. If you will reflect upon the conditions of this country industrially as they existed before the war, and as to the probable conditions which will likely follow the war, it must be apparent that we are not prepared for peace. Therefore, while we are calling in experts to assist in a program by means of which we are to build up the navy and strengthen the army, it would be a most wise and provident thing if we would call the judgment of expert economists and publicists to consider where we shall stand industrially and how we shall meet the industrial situation when the war I am much more interested in the preparedness for peace than for war, although I think both important. Everyone seems to concede that the situation will be a serious one. The department of commerce has sent out a bulletin asking for suggestions how best to protect ourselves against the invasion of the industrial army after the war. Certain it is that the standard of living will be reduced to the lowest possible level in Europe. It is equally certain that wages also will be reduced to the lowest possible level. Yet Europe, combined Europe, will be fighting to regain her markets. Our laborers will come in fierce competition with European labor. Our manufacturers, our farmers and producers will come in fierce competition with the manufacturers, our farmers and producers of Europe.

"Germany will emerge from the war the best organized industrial unit in the world. The energy, the capacity, the talents of her people thoroughly diversified will yet be mobilized as no nation ever has had the energies of her people mobilized before. The merchant of England understand this perfectly. The other day when Lloyd George was seeking to interest certain manufacturers in certain lines of industry, they said to him: 'If the government will give us sufficient protection in the way of a tariff so that we may feel safe as against organized Germany when the war is over, we will be glad to put our money into this enterprise.'

"England and France are both learning in these days how to unite, organize and mobilize the industrial energies of their people. When the war is over we will know a new Europe industrially, and we are not prepared to fight for our own markets, much less the markets of the world as against combined Europe, aroused as she will be to uncommon energy to regain her markets and pay off her tremendous debts. The pressure of Europe which will spur her to the highest endeavor will be no less in peace than in war."

"Our laboring men will be the first to feel the effect of it, for we must bear in mind that at the breaking out of this war there were 3,000,000 working men out of work in this country, and they did not go to work until the war orders came in. We all recall that the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Baldwin locomotive works and the steel plants were laying off men continually. Of course, they are all busy now."

"The manufacturer and the farmer will feel the strain also, and this fierce competition in the same way. We shall be careless and short-sighted to the last degree of we do not prepare against these days. We should, through a most thoroughly equipped nonpartisan board of experts, gather the most effective data possible, and the best judgment upon how best to meet the situation, and when this expert knowledge is had the congress should act without delay."

"I feel sure we ought to readjust our tariff laws, but that we ought to do so only upon a broad scale and upon a plan commensurate with the situation which confronts us and after a most thorough gathering of data and the opinion of those who have given consideration of the subject in the light of present conditions."

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARION H. MARSH

Has called to halt. On being smothered while. We know will go. By R. R. 40.

To Baltimore for sale. New York, Oct. 23. Baltimore is a fine place for frocks and gowns. Like the elegant models, the models turned out by the dressmakers of the Maryland city are apt to be either much shirred or scalloped. None of the sartorial efforts have been panned, however, although panniers are much in evidence on many.

Although the suit and afternoon gowns ordered at Baltimore by Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, the prospective first lady of the land, are two of "Bolling green" and one of "seal brown," it is a safe bet that her Baltimore trosser will not be complete without at least one frock of oyster white.

Mrs. Galt has evinced a preference for Georgette crepe since both "her green and brown" afternoon gowns are combinations of this soft, clinging material with either taffeta or chiffon. Her blouses also are crepe Georgette and indeed not only the first but every lady of the land seems to have a penchant for this fabric. It is being utilized every place and for everything where once the chiffon reigned supreme.

There is hardly an afternoon model for the season that does not show transparent sleeves of the crepe Georgette; and particularly in the wide bell sleeves banded in fur in this fabric charming.

It has even crept closer to feminine hearts as airy fashioned undergarments, and as nighties, chemises, petticoats, princess slips and combinations it adapts itself enchantingly.

While on the delicate subject of Georgette underwear I want to describe with bated breath a sensational set of intimate garments on display in a Fifth avenue shop window. The complete set consisted of a chemise of very wide cobwebby black net lace hung straight from shoulder straps of inch wide black satin ribbon, a pair of long lace pantaloons on a black ribbon band, a brassiere of black satin ribbon and lace; and a petticoat, in case the weather should be chill, is permissible to be held in reserve.

It is like the chemise, just a full fall of this wide lace gathered on a black satin ribbon around the waist. This shop window of inky, slinky garments comes in for a good share of black looks.

Indeed, to keep it dark seems about the best thing to do with this modern lingerie set of oh-hue.

This same shop is offering another sensation in the shape of high velvet shoes buttoned with little filigree ball buttons of gilt. One pair is of burnt orange velvet and the pair of silk hose to match has a cunning little fat chinaman embroidered on the ankle.

Burnt orange, by the way, is a very popular color for seasonable evening gowns. Wondrous velvet ones of burnt orange are heavily embroidered in silver and combined with silver lace. Dark fur bandings are also stunning combined with the burnt orange velvet. Gorgeous evening mantles of this combination are as effective as any of the other vivid velvets not shown in these voluminous garments.

I glimpsed a petite brunette actress successfully exploiting the burnt orange coloring on Fifth avenue one warm day last week. She was without a wrap and her full short skirted dress was of orange and olive green figured chiffon made with a tight-boned bodice laced with an orange cord over a glimpse of burnt orange crepe Georgette with full bell sleeves. With this she wore high buttoned shoes of olive green kid. It was a case of a pair of green kids, but no trio, if you please!

I wonder if this outfit came from Baltimore?

KOWNO LEFT IN BAD CONDITION

Retreat From This City Was Terrible Event as Three Million Refugees Are Left

LEFT SUDDENLY IN PANIC

Damages in Two Sections But Most of Shops Were Destroyed And Nothing of Value Remained

BY CARL W. AGKEMAN (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Kowno, Russia, Sept. 27 (By Courier to Berlin Mail to New York).—Back of the Russian retreat there is said to be nearly 3,000,000 refugees. I got a glimpse of what a terrible event a retreat is, at the railroad station last night and in the city today.

For a while the Russian retreat was so rapid that the fleeing civilians could not keep up and these—especially Jews—are returning to their empty homes.

Kowno must have been evacuated suddenly and in a panic. The stores are in the most delapidated condition and the store-keepers and their families who have returned, stand about in their empty, dirty, destroyed shells, broken-hearted.

When we arrived at the station a freight train came in bearing wounded Germans from the firing line. In several of the box cars were returning refugees. Bare footed women hovering about in straw, their black and vari-colored shawls drawn tightly about them—frightened and cold.

The things they brought with them added another unbelievable aspect to the general destination. I saw a woman with barely enough clothes to cover her body bringing back a sewing machine. A boy and his father carried a sack of possessions and a white kitten.

In the city there remains the pitiful old women and men who could not undergo the hardships of miles and miles of traveling by foot. They had to stay during the bombardment of the town, while the shells flew as black birds down the streets and over the city. No cellars or bomb proof trenches hid them. Their sufferings must have been terrible.

Today they are trekking about the city, barefooted and leaning on old old handmade canes. Sunday they were in the churches, crawling about the altars for hours, silently repeating prayers and walking up to kiss the cross of the feet on the gold statue of Christ.

Some are kneeling or sitting in the deserted confessionals. I have seen but one Russian priest in Kowno and there are 25,000 people here.

Along the stone cobbled streets, ramble the peasants' wagons—perhaps a mother and her family lying in the straw and the giant peasant walking along besides. Further back comes a family group driving the cow. Everywhere there are German soldiers and groups of Russian prisoners marching from one part of the town to another.

Large auto trucks in constant communication with the front hurry through the city. Big touring cars bearing officers everywhere.

Such is Kowno today—a city for nearly of 80,000 inhabitants, exclusive of the garrison for the 9 forts. To the visitor, Kowno appears like a Southern town with but three or four palatial residences and hundreds and hundreds of negro huts.

The buildings, aside from their wrecked appearance, are poorly constructed and badly furnished.

The city was damaged in sections by the bombardment. The fronts of the houses on some streets bear evidence of machine gun fire.

The wall of the church across from city hall are splashed with blood and the heavy iron fence around the monument is split in some places as fine as kindling wood. Many large buildings were destroyed by fire.

Warnings of danger from the air and from the front were not heeded. The inhabitants were forbidden to burn unboiled water for fear of cholera.

The sewage system of Kowno is and water runs out of the windows and are everywhere. In the hotels and restaurants with the German have remained one eats with one hand and chases flies with the other. Beer, books and cigars follow the German flag. Beer is brought down here by boat over the Nemel river and books and newspapers come by every post. The city is also stocked with cigars and cigarettes for the fleeing Russians didn't leave enough behind to supply their abandoned soldiers.

Meat and wheat are plentiful and the inhabitants bake their own white bread, a luxury even in Germany today. The city appears to have more than its share of wounded and every available large building is turned into a hospital.

Dr. Hussian said the Russians abandoned 1200 severe cases, leaving only a few Red Cross nurses to care for them. A Russian doctor captured early in the war has been brought here to take charge of this hospital.

NERVES STEADY AND HIS FOOD TASTES RIGHT

George Moorhead, of Cincinnati, Says Tanlac Helped Him.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 28.—George Moorhead, who lives at 920 Riverside avenue, this city, had the following to say recently in regard to Tanlac, the new preparation that is creating such favorable impression in Cincinnati:

"I have complained of nervous stomach trouble for some time. My digestive organs were not in shape and the condition grew worse constantly until it was difficult for me to eat anything with relish. What little I did eat didn't taste just right. I was nervous and run-down, suffering greatly in hot weather."

"After seeing Tanlac advertised and hearing of the good it had done others, I decided to try it. That decision was one of the most fortunate of my life. Now the pains in my stomach have vanished, I no longer have headaches. My appetite is good and I thoroughly enjoy everything I eat. I feel vigorous and energetic. My nerves are in better condition than they have been in a long time."

L. T. Cooper the Tanlac Man, said in discussing Mr. Moorhead's case: "Tanlac rebuilds the system, creates a healthy appetite, promotes digestion and assimilation and vitalizes the blood."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is sold in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store.

Storm Buggies that Will Keep You Warm, Look Nice and Wear Well. That's the Kind.

Everybody wants a nice storm buggy and I have one for everybody. Some of my competitors are going to quit selling buggies, or at least they advertise they are, and I am going to take their word for it, and just between ourselves, I have been looking for it for some time, and I have reason for looking for it. Every year I sell more buggies than I did the year before and there is not much room left for competition. You naturally ask the question "How do you increase your buggy business all the time?" and the answer is that I give more buggy value for the money than anyone else, I treat everybody alike and treat them right. I can prove I give more value for the money than my competitors as I am handling a storm buggy this winter, formerly sold by one of my competitors, and I am selling it for $10.00 less than it ever sold for before, remember the same buggy for $10.00 less. Maybe you bought one last year and paid the extra $10.00. If you did remember when you need a buggy look around. It has saved lots of vehicle buyers money to buy them of me, and I want you for a customer. The only way you can sell things right is to buy them right, and not throwing any bouquets at myself. I sure buy right and I want to give you the advantage of good buying. Good buying, and a large volume of business make it possible for me to sell you a buggy from $10.00 to $15.00 cheaper than any one else. It is a simple proposition to figure out how it is done, and when you get ready to buy a buggy, buy where the majority buy, and save.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN
Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.
We have faith in our ability as radical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer.

COMMENTS ON RECEPTION HERE

Earl Mushlitz, Associate Editor of the Star, Writes of Visit of Indianapolis Wholesalers.

THEIR THIRD TRIP TO CITY

Boosters Feel Annual Horse Show and Festival Would Not be Right Without Their Presence.

Earl Mushlitz, associate editor and special correspondent of the Indianapolis Star, this morning had a very complimentary article, from Nashville's point of view, concerning the Indianapolis trade boosters visit in this city Thursday afternoon. He wrote of the combined visit to Connersville and Nashville but only that part concerning Nashville is reproduced here:

Indianapolis wholesalers forsook their sample cases, but took their most friendly grips along on a hand-shaking expedition among merchants and business men of Connersville and Nashville yesterday. Forty-five men, officers and sales directors of large jobbing houses, made the trip in special cars of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, under the auspices of the wholesale trade division of the Chamber of Commerce. It was the sixth trade-extension tour of the year.

Rushville offered a special attraction to the Indianapolis party in the eighth annual Rush County Horse Show and Street Fair, and the capital city boosters feel, after visits to Nashville in horse show week in two successive years, that they have formed the Rushville habit and that hereafter the show will not be complete without their presence.

In both cities the wholesalers paraded the downtown streets behind the Newsboys' Band, which gave informal concerts while the members of the party dispersed to make business calls. Every parader wore a "Heart of Trade" badge, and carried the green umbrellas which have marked the extension trips for several years.

Rushville, aflame with colorful bunting in honor of horse show week and the Odd Fellow celebration next week, was crowded with home people and country folk who came to see the horse show and numerous street attractions. The Indianapolis party was welcomed by a Chamber of Commerce committee of which H. R. Cassidy was chairman. Immediately after the parade the party was assembled on the Court House steps and 3,000 Rush county citizens listened while their fellow townsmen and the Indianapolis orators renewed pledges of friendship and co-operation.

John H. Kiplinger was chairman of the informal gathering, and there were speeches by S. L. Trabue, president of the chamber of commerce, and James E. Watson, a distinguished citizen to whose welfare and advancement Rushville is always keenly alive. Mr. Watson spoke in happy vein of the intimate ties between his home city and Indianapolis.

"Indianapolis is foremost in interurbans, a leading railroad center, the first inland city of the country and one whose business houses compare favorably with those of the largest centers," said Mr. Watson. "We are glad to welcome the wholesale dealers of Indianapolis, because they come from a city that is not surpassed by any other in the country."

"Too much has been said about business to put it under suspicion. Business has been discriminated against. We of Rush county believe, when we welcome you, that we are welcoming honest, conscientious men, who are exponents of the square deal."

Responding on behalf of Indianapolis G. Barret Moxley said that Indianapolis jobbers were paying their third visit to Nashville. He spoke of the strength of Nashville's position and of their importance in the community.

They, on these trips, to impress the importance of reciprocity, because all are interrelated, although we live in different areas," continued Mr. Moxley. "You sell us your cars and tires and undergarments, and we sell you our commodities, which you buy from your merchants with the money that has been contributed in considerable part by the Indianapolis dealers in live stock and grain. We jobbers are here to renew acquaintance with your merchants, because we feel that it is to our advantage, as well as theirs, to be on the most intimate terms with them, and always keep fully informed of their wants, and through them of your wants."

While Rushville is dependent in a considerable measure on a rich agricultural county for its trade and commercial prominence, boasting of the largest yield of hogs recorded for any county in Indiana last year, it has a number of factories, among which are the Rushville Furniture Company, the Innis-Pearce Furniture Company and the Park Furniture Company, the J. D. Case Lumber Company, with a large planing mill, and an Indianapolis connection in the Farree-Case Lumber Company; the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber Company and the Reynolds Manufacturing Company manufacturers of lumber and stock sizes.

Connersville and Rushville are liberally equipped with banks and trust companies, all of them on a sound and flourishing basis. Both cities are products of home capital.

The day was not without its political significance at Rushville. Mr. Watson was busy with home folk and the horse show gave an opportunity to Mayor R. O. Johnson of Gary to circulate among Rush county citizens and let them know of his candidacy for Governor on the Republican ticket. P. J. Lynch of Newcastle, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in Congress from the Sixth District, was among the busiest handshakers.

CITY TRYING TO LOCATE SMELL

Indianapolis Bothered Everytime Wind Blows From Southeast—All Deny Responsibility.

ESPECIALLY THE PACKERS

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Wanted: Some one with a nose to trace an evil smell to its source.

Every southeast breeze over Indianapolis brings to the business section and a portion of the north side a smell that would do credit to the Chicago packing houses. But the city professes not to know where the smell comes from. Every day after such a smell has hit the city the local papers phone superintendent of Kingan & Co., packers, and the various other plants, including the Indianapolis Reduction Co., and each time they are informed that the smell does not come from these plants.

That settles it and the city does not know yet where the smell originates.

The first flight was made about three o'clock and the second one at four-thirty o'clock. Between the two flights, Grant Watkins, who was here last year, made a balloon ascension. It was not on the regular program.

The crowd Thursday was up to expectations. In fact, there were more people here than it was generally expected would be because of the immense crowd of Wednesday.

The showing of horses was concluded Thursday evening. The following awards were made in Thursday's show:

22 CHILDREN BURNED

(By United Press.) Peabody, Mass., Oct. 29.—Though firemen reported late yesterday that twenty-seven bodies had been found in the St. John's Parochial school fire, a careful checking today puts the death total at twenty-two.

NIGHT SCHOOL FOR GOSHEN

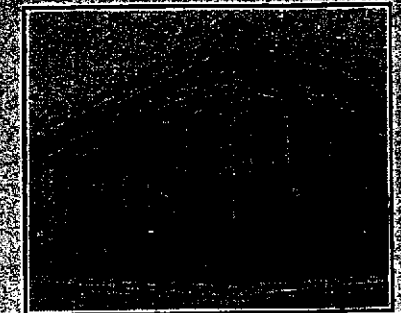

Free Vocational Training to be Given There Starting Next Week.

(By United Press.) Goshen, Ind., Oct. 29.—Another city will be added next week to the 155 in Indiana maintaining free vocational night schools when a school is opened here under the direction of the board of education. For a time only sewing will be taught here. It is believed that the enrollment will reach seventy-five. Among the other cities having vocational night schools are Evansville, Indianapolis, Port Wayne, Greensville, New Carlisle, Brookville and Elkhart.

GOING AROUND WORLD.

"Arizona Frank," who is traveling around the world on horse back, was expected to arrive here this afternoon. He lives at Kanab, Utah, and is now on his way to the Pacific coast. He is traveling under the auspices of the International Horse and Mule association of New York.
